

Weinstein AU Ferguson Construction Milestone Management Group

2009 Corporate Award

A.K.A. – “The Dream Team” unleashed the passion and encouragement to make our vision for a family support center a reality. They are the architect, general contractor and project manager behind our new home for Wellspring Family Services.

More than just a job, they went beyond their call of duty by encouraging us to dream big and have confidence every step of the way.

Ed Weinstein of Weinstein A|U said, “Take a leap of faith and design the building you need – the increased functionality will pay off in all that you do.”

Gene Colin of Ferguson Construction said, “Keep going, keeping moving ahead – you can do this.” Gene passionately believed in our vision to help families and children, so much so that his company took extraordinary measures to keep the project moving forward – everything from a guarantee on pre-purchased steel, to signing on as a critical partner in our financing, and taking every opportunity to encourage staff and trade partners to share their support for this project.

As project manager, Russ Woodruff of Milestone Management Group built confidence with every nail, every board, and every decision along the way. He kept every last detail and schedule on-line and on-time.

And they were right! Today, we have a stunning storefront for the Baby Boutique; a real playground and light-filled classrooms for Morningsong; a respectful environment for families in desperate need of housing; a hopeful, healthful room for our domestic violence groups; and private offices with observation rooms for our parent/child therapists.

The services and dignity we knew families deserve were translated flawlessly into a place we now call home.
